market commentary

Global equities generated negative returns in sterling terms over the first quarter of 2018. Higher US wage growth led to fears of faster interest rate hikes by the US Federal Reserve (Fed), while the increase in tariffs by the US government sparked concerns about the possibility of trade wars. Elsewhere, the European Central Bank (ECB) retained its accommodative monetary policy. Uncertainty about the UK's negotiations with the European Union (EU) over the terms of its exit continued. Against this backdrop, all regions generated negative returns over the period. Emerging market and Japanese equities fell the least, while the UK and Pacific ex Japan experienced the weakest performance. At a sector level, information technology and consumer discretionary outperformed, while energy and telecommunications were the biggest laggards.

risk rating

Very Low Low Low/Medium Medium Medium/High High Very High

All investments carry a level of risk. You need to decide how much of each type of risk you're prepared to take. The table below gives an overview of some of the risks associated with this fund.

risk type	description of risk	level of risk for this fund
Capital Risk	This is the risk that the value of your investments will fall. The younger you are, the less worried you might be about capital risk, because your investments have time to recover their value before your retire.	High
Inflation Risk	This is the risk that the value of your investments will grow more slowly than prices rise. Inflation can be a problem for pension savings invested in cash funds particularly if the interest you're earning is less than the rate of inflation.	Med
Pension Conversion Risk	The price of an annuity changes on a regular basis. This means that the amount of income you can secure with the same amount of money will change. Pension conversion risk is the risk that the amount of income you can buy drops before you retire, because your money is invested differently to annuity funds. That's why putting more of your DC pension pot into bonds to try to match annuity prices as you get closer to retirement age can help protect against this risk.	High
